

TIM STEELE. PRODUCTION MANAGER

Since starting in-house and further moving into freelance production in the early 2000's Tim has worked with some of the industry's most awarded directors. Being able to form close relationships with many producers means he has vast experience of overseeing jobs at all stages of pre-production from the initial script and treatment all the way through to the budget and final wrap. Tim has experience of bidding jobs and is well versed in liaising with agencies and has shot in many European countries.
